2. This action is in reply to the applicant's correspondence on 02/15/08.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable claimed subject matter.
4. As per claims 57, 83, 109 and 124, generally, the prior art of record, United States Patent No. 6,418,421 to Hurtado et al., fails to teach alone, or in combination, other than via hindsight, at the time of the invention, the features as discussed and remarked upon in the response of 02/15/08.
5. Nowhere in the prior art is found, collectively, the italicized claim elements (i.e., "updating a first device history table to indicate that the first device is not authorized to render the protected electronic content and updating a second device history table to indicate the second device is authorized to render the protected electronic content based on the received transfer authorization request"), at the time of the invention; serving to patentably distinguish the invention from said prior art;

"57. A method of transferring authorization to render protected electronic content from a first device to a second device, having a device cryptographic key, receiving a transfer authorization request having an indicator of the first device;

updating a first device history table to indicate that the first device is not authorized to render the protected electronic content and updating a second device history table to indicate the second device is authorized to render the protected electronic content based on the received transfer authorization request; and communicating a transfer authorization response having an indicator of the second device, an indicator of the protected electronic content, and a content cryptographic key for the protected electronic content protect using the device cryptographic key of the second device so that only the second device may gain access to the content cryptographic key by use of the device cryptographic key of the second device.”
